Why Puglia? The question is almost shocking to the new owners of the Palazzo Rosso. ``You have everything here: the food, the culture, the history, the landscapes, the land and the sea!`` Pascale and Ulrike know what they're talking about. In the meantime...

Rooms&suites that warm up your heart, they are not simple places to stay.

Fragments of lights, charm and stories, this is how every detail creates the essence of your journey.

At our restaurant 700, we have chosen to enhance the local cuisine. Our producers and farmers nearby "have a seat" at our table where seasonality and territoriality are keywords. Respecting time and variety of the exceptional local products which Puglia has to offer is the key for 700, we want our clients not only to visit the region, but also to taste it.

The Palazzo Rosso, (the red palace), has a fascinating history. Once the home of Ostuni's first mayor, Don Paolo Tanzarella, its walls tell the somewhat turbulent story of the White City. Just steps away from the present-day Remembrance park, the venerable stone building has always been at the center of the city's social and cultural life.

A haven in the heart of the White City, our private garden is the largest in Ostuni, a place conducive to daydreaming, reading or just enjoying the moment. At the far end, the beautiful orange grove offers itself as a perfect excuse to organize romantic candlelit dinners for two.

The old water cistern of the Palazzo Rosso found a new life as a unique spa nestled 7 meters below ground. Accessible by elevator it features exclusively for our Hotel guests a hydromassage basin, a steam bath, a spa shower with chromotherapy and a treatment room for two and relaxation area clad in Himalayan salt walls aimed at enhancing wellbeing.

Just lie back on your sun bed and relax or enjoy a refreshing cocktail whilst watching the day pass by.

Turquoise blue water is invitingly refreshing or discover the seafront reefs through snorkelling.

Green hospitality for us is a philosophy, not a simple style; the elements of sustainability integrate with functionality, cost containment, environmental factors, and the health and well-being of our guests.
